Honoring Our Veterans

By: Brandon Bailey

On November 11th, Warner Public Schools honored our veterans. There were two Veteran's Day videos online instead of the regular assembly due to COVID-19. This is especially important for those who might have health problems, and it allows everyone to still enjoy the assembly. These videos were produced by Warner's video production class. In the first video, a welcoming speech was made by Hannah Howard. After the speech, the choir sang two beautiful songs amazingly, which were "Pledge Allegiance" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Following the choir was the performance of "Taps" by the WHS marching band. An emotional speech was then made by Jaylee Kindred. The choir sang two more songs which were "Welcome Home" and "God Bless America." A closing speech was made by Hayden Peters. The second video included pictures honoring our local veterans.

Veteran's Day is a very important day in American history because it celebrates the men and women who fought to protect our country. America will never forget this day and will always honor the brave souls who are veterans or actively serving. These videos can be found on the WPS Facebook page and website.

Cross Country Team Soars High

By: Brandon Bailey

WHS boys' and girls' cross country teams

In the year 2020, the Warner Public Schools cross country teams have been soaring high. It seems as if the teams have had a successful year, and their hard work proves it. McClain Chesser from the WHS cross country team said, "We have been practicing hard and running five miles everyday." Their hard work has led the WHS boys and girls to qualify for state. The junior high girls' team was undefeated this year. In addition, Madilyn Ellis, Karlee Hart, Harlie Chesser, and Gaige Maher were named All-Region runners. At the state meet on November 4th, the girls placed 12th overall, and the boys placed 10th. Gaige Maher finished ninth individually at state, which earned him All-State honors. In addition, the girls received the Distinguished Academic Achievement award, and the boys received the Academic Achievement award. Xander Torix stated, "I felt awesome and great about our performance at the meet. We all did our best." Reflecting back on the year, McClain said, "I believe we could have done better this year, but overall I believe we did good. As for next year, I think it will be the best we will have. We are going to get a lot of good runners, so I'm looking forward to it."

Helping Squirmy

By: Hayleigh Boswell

Lately Squirmy has noticed the strange procedures us humans do to show respect to each other. While he was doing some research on a computer, Coach

Hume gave Squirmy some thoughts on the subject. Afterwards he thanked Coach and went the rest of the day trying to be polite. Squirmy opened doors, listened to others respectfully, and thought before he spoke.

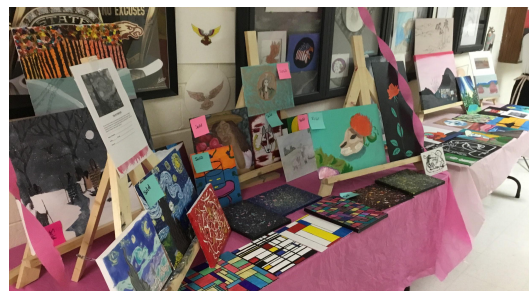

Realizing that this makes people feel appreciated, Squirmy understood why we take the time and energy to care for others and their thoughts. Later Coach told him, "One way to encourage politeness and respect is to show it yourself..." He continued, "Be considerate of others and show compassion. You don't know if they might be having a bad day or if they have a bad home life. If I see someone by themselves, I always try my best to go talk to them... just being there for someone and asking them how their day is can change their whole attitude. Be intentional with them." Squirmy thanked him again and finished his day brightening the world for others.

Art Club

By: Levi Lewis

You know what a really neat Christmas present is? A replica of a famous painting! The Warner Art Club has decided to paint replicas like the ones pictured below as a fundraiser to raise money for supplies. "People can buy a piece of artwork redone by art students and can buy one for $10 each," said Nathan Bailey, member of the Art Club, when asked what the fundraiser is. "A disadvantage is that not everyone wants to buy our art pieces, which is sad because we put a lot of effort and time into these pieces," he replied when asked what a disadvantage might be. He is currently working on "Thirty-six Kabuki Actors" by Natori Shunsen.

Go get yourself a nice painting, or, better yet, get one to give to someone.

Mock Election

By: Levi Lewis

On November 3rd, a mock election was held at Warner Middle School and High School. The election was made as real as possible with an actual copy of the ballot. The winning presidential candidate was Trump with 76% of the vote.

Addison Hummingbird

Q: What value do you hold dear? A: "My grades are important to me because I want to go to college and become an optometrist which will take a lot of determination and very good grades."

Q: "What advice would you give other students?"

A: "Well, I am not as experienced as some other students, but I guess I would tell other students to have fun while it lasts, but still do your homework. School is very important, and you should definitely focus on your grades; however, only once in your life do you not have many responsibilities."
